

GYTI 2015 (Gandhian Young Technological Innovation Awards, 2015)

Awards to be given on 8th March 2014 during FOIN (Festival of Innovation) at Rashtrapati Bhavan , New Delhi.

SRISTI (Society for Research and Initiatives for Sustainable Technologies and Institutions) has established three national awards for innovative student projects in engineering, pharmacy, science and other applied technologies. These will be given away by Dr.R.A.Mashelkar, Chairperson of NIF at Rashtrapati Bhavan on 8th March 2015. The awards will be given to young innovators in the following category:

Gandhian Young Technological Innovation Awards, 2015

1. MLM (More from less for Many) award
2. Sristi socially relevant technological innovation award
3. Technological-edge award

Every College (Engineering , Pharmacy, Polytechnic , MCA) may nominate its 10 most innovative best Projects/ Thesis, which might have been done during the past 3 years (including this year).

Last date of online application: 31st December, 2014

Applicants can make online submission at: http://techpedia.in/award/submit_innovation

All the shortlisted entries will be displayed by winners at the Festival of Innovations at Rashtrapati Bhavan in March 2015

Student projects which address an important social, environmental or technological problem faced by masses or disadvantaged people/sectors/spaces or micro and small enterprises, or have the potential to impact a pressing national need are invited. The applications may be made by the past or present students of technical institutions/universities. On behalf of the students who have already passed out and left the Institute/ University, the faculty member, who supervised the project, can also apply.

GTU students have actively participated in earlier edition of this national award and won awards.
